Collection Visit: Rocky River Home

Saturday, April 10, 2010

Time 1:00 –3:00

What do porcelain, celluloid, bakelite, shell, and metal have in common? For one thing, they were all used to make buttons for clothing. Join us at this Rocky River home as we view an extensive button collection spanning the 1840's to the 1940's, which will also include button bracelets fashioned by the collector. The collector will present a historical overview of buttons, and lead us on a tour of her other collections which include military uniforms and memorabilia pertaining to the home front in two World Wars. The collector and her military collection have been featured on Channel 5 News. Donation is $30 for TAA members, $40 for non-members; your check is your reservation. Light refreshments will be served. Please contact Charla Coatoam at 216-381-2383, cctoam@yahoo.com for more information.
